

A New Innovation to fight against COVID-19

Abstract:

Health City is a web portal, mobile application, and Data Analysis Tool which helps to generate health card for every citizen. This health card is a plastic card containing the general info of the concerned person like name, gender, etc. and have a unique serial number associated with each health-card to find the concerned entity using which authorized health centres can add/update the health about details of the concerned entity. Also, each user can check his/her health reports/Details. The other part is the data analysis tool which will analyse the data concern to a particular area/city to which the health organization can use to take the required precarious measures. It also includes analytics based on age, gender, etc. Every Dr. /Labs based on their practice certificate/license will be given the authorization to add/update the health details of each concerned entity. Using this system, the concerned health organization can treat their patients more effectively. Along with this we are going to provide many other features like notifies the precautions of covid19, publishes the videos of recover patients, some experts and doctors interviews, and video of what exactly corona is? More to this we provide different statistics and tracker for the cases of corona as well as we provide different suggestions for boosting the immunity power and one of the important feature is we spread positivity by publishing the innovations that are carried out in such a crucial time like robots. In this way our portal will work.
